MAGNETIC ANALYSIS CORP.

Your Source for Ultrasonic Inspection Systems, Services & Consultation

With Magnetic Analysis Corp.'s acquisition of TacTic™ in 2022, TacTic customers now have the full support of MAC's experienced engineering and field service personnel for consultation, service and non-destructive testing to evaluate their products.

Whether ultrasonic, phased array ultrasonic, eddy current, flux leakage or other NDT technologies, MAC's staff members, trained and tested to ASNT requirements, many with Level III ASNT certification, can advise you on technology and systems to meet your customer specifications and your internal requirements.

Services & Worldwide Support Include:

- Consultation on Ultrasound, Eddy Current, Flux Leakage and Electromagnetic testing techniques.
- Detailed knowledge of mill production processes.
- Evaluation of metal product and other solids.
- Factory and Remote pre-acceptance testing to meet customer specifications for NDT systems.
- Remote diagnostic support backed with a strong field team for quick resolution of issues.
- Complete service of products including installation, training, maintenance, and extended warranty.
- Support from MAC's Research and Development operations in the US and Sweden.
